

Quest Connect Groups

Quest Connect Groups meet each week to discuss the message from Sunday, encourage each other, and grow in faith together.

Stop by the information center or visit our website for a list of groups, contact a host and make the connection this week.

Childcare is available at the church for Wednesday night groups.

Register online by midnight Sunday for childcare service this Wednesday.

1. Who was your very first friend (other than a family member)? What do you remember about that first friendship? Are you still in contact with them today?
2. We all need relationships that can help us when we face difficulties. Is there a specific time when you remember someone helping you up from a fall or having your back in an attack? What might have happened if that person hadn't been there for you?
3. Read Ecclesiastes 4:7-12 as a group. What do you notice in this wisdom from Solomon? What stands out to you? How do verses 7-8 contrast with 9-12?
4. Our community can help us become more aware of our blind spots. How open are you to letting others "speak the truth in love" when they see a possible blind spot in your life? What does it take to do that well?
5. What are some ways that we can stand back-to-back and conquer when a member of our community is under attack?
6. What steps do you need to take based on the things we've heard in this week's message and discussed as a group. Ask the group to pray for your next steps.

Ephesians 4:14-15

Colossians 3:16

Two people are better off than one, for they can help each other succeed. If one person falls, the other can reach out and help. But someone who falls alone is in real trouble. Likewise, two people lying close together can keep each other warm. But how can one be warm alone? A person standing alone can be attacked and defeated, but two can stand back-to-back and conquer. Three are even better, for a triple-braided cord is not easily broken.

Ecclesiastes 4:9-12
